[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 47.]

A resolution authorizing the State of Minnesota to change the line of certain branch railroads in said State, and for other purposes

Whereas by an act of Congress approved March third, eighteen hundred and fifty seven, there was granted to the Territory of Minnesota lands to aid in the construction of a railroad from Stillwater, via St Paul and St Anthony, to a point between the foot of Big Stone lake and the mouth of Sioux Wood river with a branch, via St Cloud and Crow Wing to the navigable waters of the Red River of the North, the northern terminus of which was fixed by the Legislature of said Territory at St Vincent and whereas it is now believed that the public interests require a change of location of a part of said branch road Therefore—

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That in lieu of that part of the railroad grant to Minnesota Territory, by act of Congress approved, third March eighteen hundred and fifty seven, which extends northwesterly from the intersection of the tenth standard parallel with the fourth guide meridian, there shall be granted to the State of Minnesota the alternate sections within six mile limits of such new branch line of route as the authorities of the State may designate, having its southwesterly terminus at any point on the existing line between the Falls of Saint Anthony and Crow Wing, and extending in a northeasterly direction to the waters of Lake Superior with a right of indemnity between the fifteen miles limits thereof, provided this resolution shall take effect from the filing in the General Land Office of the acceptance by the authorities aforesaid of such substitution, whereupon the land north of the intersection aforesaid in the grant as authorized by the said act of third March, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven being by said acceptance disencumbered of the railroad grant, shall be dealt with as other public lands of the United States

Fruit and Vegetable Show

Dr P Prettyman [illegible] for inspection of the [illegible] yesterday at the corner of Alder and Front streets the finest collection of fruits and vegetables that we have ever [illegible] in this country, and we may further say that we [illegible] the like cannot be [illegible] and perhaps not equalled anywhere. His collection [illegible] of several monster [illegible] which weighed thirty pounds [illegible] several varieties of potatoes, consisting of "Prince Albert," "Blue Kidney," "Early June," "Peach Blow," and Garnett's Chili. Also about one dozen beets of very large size, a few cucumbers for seed. In the way of fruits we noticed several large and handsome varieties of apples, consisting of Pound Pippins, Tolpa Hawkins, Redcheck Pippins, Dutch Mignonne, Spitzenburg, Yellow [illegible] Pippins, Blue Pearmains, [illegible] Sweeting, and Roxbury Russetts. Also [illegible] of Lawton blackberries, and a bunch of raspberries, also a sprig of English Hawthorn, and a few very large Pound Pears. There was also about a peck of the seed of Scotch Vetch, which is said to produce excellent hay or fodder, and will grow anywhere, killing out any other vegetation, even sorrel and white clover. This display of fruit and vegetables far excelled anything of the kind we saw on exhibition at the State Fair, and would have certainly taken first premiums throughout. We are pleased to see such exhibitions of the products of our soil, as it not only proves what can be done by proper care and industry, but also demonstrates the producing qualities of the soil of this State, which has been long and justly claimed to excel any other State or country in Uncle Sam's dominions. We challenge the world to produce better fruits and vegetables than Oregon can when properly cultivated. Doctor Prettyman is one of our best gardeners, and has deservedly earned the reputation of always bringing the best of garden products to market.

From the Cascades.—The Julia arrived last evening from the Cascades bringing down one hundred and twenty five passengers to this city, and one company California Volunteers to Fort Vancouver, commanded by Capt Fitch. We are informed that this company presents the finest appearance, the best discipline and the best morality of any company ever seen in the service on the coast. Every man is well dressed, clean and orderly, and what is still more remarkable only one was seen to drink at the bar, and he only once, during the trip down. We learn that they will take their departure on the Sierra Nevada for Benicia, to which place they have been ordered.

Badge of Honor.—Gen Kearney ordered his officers to wear sewed on their caps a square bit of red flannel, that he might the more easily recognize them. They have determined to adopt this red badge as an honorary distinction, and their new commander Gen. Stoneman, approves of it. Field and staff officers wear it on the crown of their caps, line officers on the front of their caps and privates on the right side. In the next fight in which they may be engaged, Kearny's men, with their badges, will avenge their beloved commander.

Cassius M. Clay.—Gen Cassius M Clay has definitely abandoned all idea of returning to Russia, and will serve his country unconditionally in the field wherever the Commander in Chief may send him. Cameron, his successor as Minister to Russia, is expected back to this country early in November and the duties of the legation will probably devolve on his secretary, Bayard Taylor.

Arrived.—The steamer Sierra Nevada arrived last evening at 5 o clock from San Francisco, via Victoria. We failed to obtain a list of her passengers, but presume there were but few. We are indebted to Wells Fargo & Co for files of late California and Victoria papers. No later news from the East by steamer than had been received by overland mail.

Judgment at Law.—At the term of the Circuit Court just closed at Hillsboro the county of Multnomah obtained a judgment against the bondsmen of Z. N. Stansbury, late County Treasurer, for the full amount of his deficit, with interest, viz $7 180 76.

John Petit has been nominated for Congress by the Copperheads of the Eighth Indiana District. The Lafayette Journal says he made a speech a few days ago in which he said: "If Old Abe will just come to me I'll tell him how to stop this rebellion. Extend slavery over every Free State in the Union and the rebellion will be stopped in sixty days."

Capt Daniel Taylor of Company A Washington Territory Regiment has resigned. He represents Col Steinberger's command as undisciplined and the officers inefficient.

All for Want of Cotton.—In Preston England, there are 25 000 persons receiving parochial and charitable relief. The population of the place is only 82 000.

Veto Message of Gov Gibbs on the Appraisement Bill

[illegible]

Gentlemen [illegible] Assembly [illegible] bills [illegible] President of the Senate and [illegible] House [illegible] An Act [illegible] the appraisement of property sold under execution [illegible] [illegible] shall [illegible] his [illegible] present [illegible] House [illegible] Constitution to give the subject [illegible] consideration which its importance requires.

[illegible] That real or goods and chattels [illegible] shall not be sold on execution for less than two thirds of the [illegible] at the time [illegible]

Section [illegible] provides for the appraisement of all property taken in execution at its cash value at the time.

Section [illegible] provides that [illegible] property [illegible] appraised value [illegible] two thirds [illegible] it shall be no sale, but that the execution shall be returned.

The policy of a law of this kind may be very reasonably questioned. It may lead to delay and thus increase the cost of collecting and a careful examination of the bill will show that there may be collusion between the appraisers and the judgment debtor to increase the fair value of the property in spite of the creditor. It must be recollected that the appraisers are not to give the cash valuation of the property but a fair value, [illegible] which may result in a much higher appraisement than it may be [illegible] the standard of valuation. While I think the policy of the bill is bad, I put my objections mainly on Constitutional grounds.

Article 1st Section 22 of the Constitution of this State says: "No ex post facto law or laws impairing the obligation of contracts shall ever be passed." The same provision is in the Constitution of the United States.

The bills under consideration are in violation of the above provisions of the Constitution as they impair the obligation of contracts. The provisions of the bills referring to appraisement and sale for not less than two thirds of the appraised value apply alike to past and future contracts.

A contract is an agreement or covenant between two or more persons, in which each party binds himself to do or forbear some act and each acquires a right to what the other promises.

Suppose A has sold B six hundred dollars worth of property. A has obtained judgment and execution. B has a span of horses worth six hundred dollars. A has a right to have the horses sold for what they will bring, under the law and that right is as much a part of the contract as if all the provisions of law giving that right had been fully set out and formed a part of the contract. But if these bills become law, A's right will be abridged and circumscribed; instead of selling the horses for what they will bring they cannot be sold for less than two-thirds of the appraised value, be that more than they are worth or not.

The objections to a law on the ground of its impairing the obligation of a contract can never depend upon the extent of the change which the law affects in it. Any deviation from its terms by postponing or accelerating the period of performance which it prescribes, imposing conditions not expressed in the contract, or dispensing with the performance of those which are however minute or apparently immaterial in their effect upon the contract of the parties impairs its obligation.—Upon this principle it is that if a creditor agrees with his debtor to postpone the day of payment or in any other way to change the terms of the contract without the consent of the surety, the latter is discharged, although the change was for his advantage. See Green vs Biddle, 8 Wheat U S Supreme Court Reports.

Story on the Constitution Sec 1385 in referring to impairing the obligation of contracts in the sense of the Constitution says, "It is perfectly clear that any law which enlarges, abridges or in any manner changes the intention of the parties resulting from the stipulations in the contract necessarily impairs it. The manner or degree in which this change is effected can in no respect influence the conclusion, for whether the law affects the validity, the construction, the duration, the discharge or the evidence of the contract, it impairs its obligation, though it may not in all the supposed cases in the same degree." The application of these principles to acts like those under consideration, has settled the law on the subject in the United States.

The State of Illinois in 1841 passed an act providing for the selecting of appraisers and that property should not be sold under execution unless two thirds of the appraised value was bid. That act is substantially like the bill under consideration, excepting it provided for appraisement upon cash value.

Under that act the case of McBracken vs Haywood was taken to the Supreme Court of the United States. The syllabus of the case is as follows: "A law of the State of Illinois providing that a sale shall not be made of property levied on under an execution, unless it will bring two thirds of its valuation according to the opinion of three householders is unconstitutional [illegible]"

The principle is so clearly stated and fully settled in that case that I need add nothing to the reasoning of the Court which says: "In placing the obligation of contracts under the protection of the Constitution its framers looked to the essentials of contract more than to the forms and modes of proceeding by which it was to be carried into execution; annulling all State Legislation which impaired the obligation, it was left to the State to prescribe and shape the remedy to enforce it. The obligation of a contract consists in its binding force on the party who makes it. This depends on the laws in existence when it is made; these are necessarily referred to in all contracts and forming a part of them as the measure of the obligation to perform them by the one party and the right acquired by the other. There can be no other standard by which to ascertain the extent of either than that which the terms of the contract indicate according to the settled legal meaning; when it becomes consummated the law defines the duty and the right, compels one party to perform the thing contracted for, and gives the other a right to enforce the performance by the remedies then in force. If any subsequent law affect to diminish the duty or to impair the right it necessarily bears on the obligation of the contract in favor of one party to the injury of the other; hence any law which in its operation amounts to a denial or obstruction of the rights accruing by a contract, though professing to act only on the remedy [illegible] form the [illegible] them [illegible] the right [illegible] damages for the [illegible] and obtain a judgment [illegible] against the defendant [illegible] was satisfied pursuant to [illegible] laws of Illinois.

"Those laws giving these rights were as perfectly binding [illegible] a part of the contract [illegible] forth in its stipulations in the very words of the law relating to [illegible] If the defendant had [illegible] should [illegible] It would [illegible] statute [illegible] difference [illegible] the terms of law [illegible] acquired [illegible] [illegible] that there shall be no sale [illegible] than the value [illegible] to ascertain [illegible] mode of valuation than [illegible] the obligation of the contract [illegible] [illegible] right of the plaintiff.

"It follows that the law of Illinois [illegible] consideration, so far as it prohibits a sale for less than two thirds of the appraised value of the property levied [illegible] is unconstitutional and void."

The same position [illegible] held [illegible] the Supreme Court [illegible] States in the cases of—

Bronson vs Kinzie, 1 Howard, [illegible] the West River Bridge Co vs Dix [illegible] How[illegible] and [illegible] Green vs Biddle, 8 Wheat [illegible]

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A[illegible] C. Gibbs,
Governor of Oregon.

Eastern News

Washington Oct 16.—A letter from Gov Curtin of Pennsylvania says he has been informed on good authority that our commander in command of the troops at Hagerstown Maryland knew of the rebels crossing the Potomac at Hancock at noon on [illegible] As the rebels did not leave [illegible] until nine on Saturday morning, the whole force could have been captured [illegible] measures been taken, and the people of Pennsylvania saved from the disgrace [illegible] them. The Governor demands a thorough investigation, which the military authorities have ordered. In the meantime Gov. Curtin is taking active measures to insure the State against any further raids.

Fortress Monroe, Oct [illegible]—The Richmond Enquirer of the 11th thinks there is a prospect of an early peace which can be [illegible] founded on the recent battles in Virginia and Maryland and especially Antietam, which it says, was the most terrible defeat of the war to the Federals. It adds that the Emancipation proclamation is issued in anticipation of the immediate interference of other nations to afford them an apology for terminating the war.

Chicago, Oct 16.—But little is allowed to be telegraphed in regard to army movements in Kentucky. The rebels have three routes of retreat—one through Somerset, by the road on which Zollicoffer invaded Kentucky last Winter, one through Williamsburg, and the third via Cumberland Gap, which is not believed to have been made wholly impassable. At this season all three roads are in tolerably good condition, and the rebels may succeed in safely carrying off the most of their trains. Buell is still in active pursuit, and it is considered likely that within ten days not an armed rebel, unless a native guerrilla, will be in Kentucky.

Louisville, Oct. 16.—The Memphis Bulletin says the guerrillas are below Raleigh, Tennessee, burning all the cotton they come across.

Louisville papers of the 12th say the Federals are concentrating in large force at Fort Donelson for the purpose of clearing Western and Middle Tennessee of rebels. Many rebel families at Clarksville are preparing to leave.

The main body of our army was said to be near Crab Orchard last night. The rebels were still retreating in two columns towards Cumberland river. All sorts of rumors are in circulation. One is based on a Frankfort dispatch of last evening to the effect that Kirby Smith's entire force has been captured in the vicinity of Nicholsville. At headquarters they have no information confirming this, and the report is discredited.

Washington, Oct 16.—The depreciation of paper money is inconveniently felt by the Government in its transactions, including the difference of exchange, to pay navy and civil expenses at distant points where the United States notes cannot be made available. From similar causes, many contractors will be involved in heavy losses, if not bankruptcy, owing to the increased prices of articles which they have obligated themselves to furnish. They, it is said, will apply to Congress for relief.

Philadelphia, Oct 16.—A correspondent of the Inquirer, writing from McClellan's army under date of the 14th, says many important changes have been made in the various brigades, divisions and corps within the past few days. [illegible] has been assigned to McDowell's command, but has not yet taken the field. Many of the [illegible] under orders to march at a moment's warning. Her armament [illegible] of six 32 pounders, one 100 [illegible] forward and a 48 pound [illegible] being strictly in the track [illegible] bound [illegible] great fear among them.

New York, Oct 17.—The Times' Centreville correspondent says there is no doubt that Gen. Stuart is now in front of our advance [illegible] threatening an attack. Gen Sigel has advanced to meet him. Gen Stuart camped yesterday between Bull Run and [illegible] at the Blue Ridge.

Louisville, Oct 16.—Official dispatches from Nashville were received [illegible] rebels were in large force near that city on the 11th and sent a flag of truce demanding the surrender of the city. Gov. Negley, who [illegible] command, declined. The latter [illegible] to be considered [illegible] for its defence. Harris, Maj. Gen. Anderson and Breckinridge [illegible] were in command of the rebels.

New York, Oct 17.—Serious resistance having been made to enrolment for draft in the district of Luzerne county, Pa., it was necessary to call military force in town [illegible] and fire on insurgents. Four or five were killed and opposition quelled.

Advices from headquarters state that Gen Schofield, with advance guard left [illegible]sville and was moving toward the Arkansas line. Scouts penetrated as far as Cross Hollows, Ark., but were driven back by the enemy.

We have intelligence from East [illegible] Arkansas that a rebel force of 7 000 [illegible] concentrated at Providence under [illegible] Carr is in command at Helena [illegible] reports state that Hindman with a considerable force is on the west side of the river, threatening to attack him. Hindman is waiting to do so before Carr can be reinforced. Carr has force sufficient to make his posit on safe.

The draft in New York is ordered for Nov 10; the number to be probably 25 000.

The Times' Frederick correspondent says a reconnaissance across Potomac shows that the rebels are in force in the vicinity of Shepardstown.

Washington, Oct 17.—A dispatch received by Navy Department, from Com. Scott of the gunboat Maratanza, dated off Cape Fear, N. C., 11th, says on that morning the rebels opened fire on gunboat from a battery which they constructed during the night on the beach. One shell struck and exploded, killing [illegible] and wounding [illegible] The gunboat will draw.

Burlington, Vt., Oct 17th.—Sufficient returns have been received to determine the election of all the Republican Members of Congress. The State Ticket is also elected by about 10,000 majority.

Chicago, Oct 17.—Returns from Iowa indicate the election of five Republican Congressmen.

Cincinnati, Oct 16th.—Returns from [illegible] counties give a Democratic majority [illegible] being a gain of over 28 000.

Indianapolis, Oct 16.—Returns thus far indicate the election of the Democratic State ticket by from [illegible] 000 to 8 000.

Portland, Oct. [illegible] 1862.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store, and at Charles Barrett's, Front street.

BUSY PLACE.—The office of Wells, Fargo & Co., in this city, is a busy place each evening upon the arrival of the steamers from above, where scores of miners are to be seen crowding around, either to sell or deposit their dust for safe-keeping. It makes a poor fellow stare to see the immense proportions of many bags of the precious ore revealed upon the counters or lumped around the establishment. If we had only what comes into that establishment during one week, we should seek no farther happiness in riches, and immediately cease hunting for items, you bet!

EMIGRANTS.—We are glad to hear that our old townsman Hiram Smith arrived at Col. [illegible]'s camp on the Malheur river on Oct. 11th. His party of about 60 persons took a "cut-off," and were lost about two months. They may be expected in soon.

REMARKABLE.—The City Recorder informs us that for once during his term of office, five days have passed without his having been called upon to settle some dispute or fine some riven or boisterous individual for misconduct. This would indicate an improvement in the morals of our city which it is sincerely hoped may prove true, though we fear it is attributable more to accident than reality.

TIMELY WARNING.—We are requested to state that if that short man with black whiskers, who stole a gold pen from the counter of Mossman & Co.'s Express office, yesterday morning, will return the same he will receive a reward of $5 and no questions asked, otherwise an officer will give him a call.

SAILS.—The Sierra Nevada will probably sail for San Francisco, direct, this evening at six o'clock.

[illegible] MULLER.—Fred. Muller, of the Pony [illegible] Rooms, brought round to our office on Wednesday night a splendid luncheon of raw, stewed, and half-shelled oysters, delicious salad, etc., etc. We thank the gentleman for his kindness, and assure him that the lunch was very acceptable, and in style of get up cannot be equalled. He must do a [illegible] business in that line. Fred's two legs ahead, thus far.

DEMOCRATY IN ILLINOIS.—The correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, from Springfield, Ill., [illegible], announced that loyal Democrats of that State are denouncing the action of the recent Democratic State Convention. He says:

The war Democrats here are on the rampage. General McClernand, Judge Scates and other gentlemen of that side of the Democratic house openly repudiate it. General John A. Logan has already done so in advance, in a [illegible] speech delivered at Carbondale. Judge Scates was treated in a most ungentlemanly manner in the Convention. He offered a [illegible] of resolutions indorsing Lincoln's letter to Horace Greeley, and urging a vigorous [illegible] of the war; but they were laid on the table without reading. The Douglas Democrats in the northern part of the State cannot [illegible] John A. McClernand and John A. [illegible] refuse to lead, and they will not. A [illegible] Stephenson county, in Committee, offered a part of Douglas' last speech—the [illegible] speech of his life—to be incorporated into the resolutions; but A. L. Knapp, [illegible] of Congress from this district, fairly [illegible] him, and the Stephenson gentleman [illegible].

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—By order of Gen. Wright, Thomas Baker, State Senator from Tulare and Fresno counties, was arrested this afternoon by United States Marshal Rand for treason against the Government. The capture of other prominent rebel sympathizers is anticipated, though they have been rather quiet since the summary manner of taking off Lewis to Alcatraz. Baker goes over to-morrow. It is believed he will have company on [illegible].

[illegible] ENGINE Co. No. 2.—Drill this [illegible] at 7 o'clock precisely.
Oct. 21. BEN. L. NORDEN, Sec'y.

The attention of the community is respectfully solicited to the New Goods arrived by the last [illegible] a full line of Ladies' Silk Mantillas, [illegible] Florals, new style Hats, Challis, Poplins, [illegible] together with a full assortment of Gents New style [illegible] suits, Fancy Sacks, Broadway styles [illegible] and the very latest fashion of Parisian and New York Fancy Summer Panama Braid and Light [illegible] Hats. All the articles are now ready for sale, at Harkers' New Building on First street, [illegible] Commercial Wharf.

[illegible] The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. [illegible] having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

White's Patent Lever Trusses.—These instruments are recommended to the public as the best ever invented. The principle is new and different from any other. The Pad works over a Knuckle, giving it a circular INWARD and UPWARD motion, thus being able to support the rupture with half the pressure required by other trusses. The pain consequent upon heavy pressure is thereby avoided.

These instruments will not rust, and are the lightest, most durable and most cleanly of all others. They can be [illegible] at pleasure. Many persons have been cured by them of ruptures of several years standing.

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION
—AND—
Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a tight seam, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle; curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer; should stitch, fell, run and gather; and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, or ravel.

DR. BAKER'S
PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however unhealthy, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and it will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night: it will not only cure the pain but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night: at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

The following caustic criticisms upon American women which must in all truth be admitted to be to true, we clip from the new work on America by Anthony Troll[illegible]. The paragraphs will undoubtedly awaken retort from American writers. Nevertheless they are the every day [illegible] in more places than one.

WOMEN'S PRIVILEGES IN AMERICA

Women are entitled to much observance from man, but they are entitled to no observance which is incompatible with truth. Women, by the conventional laws of society, are allowed to exact much from men but they are allowed to exact nothing for which they should not make some adequate return. It is well that a man should kneel in spirit before the grace and weakness of a woman, but it is not well that he should kneel either in body or spirit if there be neither grace nor weakness. A man should yield everything to a woman for a word for a smile—to one look of entreaty. But if there be no look of entreaty, no word, no smile, I do not see that he is called upon to yield much. The happy privileges with which women are at present blessed, have come to them from the spirit of chivalry. That spirit has taught men to endure in order that women might be at their ease, and has generally taught women to accept the ease bestowed on them with grace and thankfulness. But in America the spirit of chivalry has sunk deeper among men than it has among women. It must be borne in mind that in that country material well being and education are more extended than with us, and that, therefore, men have learned to be chivalrous who with us have hardly progressed so far. The conduct of men throughout the States is always gracious. They have learned the lesson. But it seems to me that women have not advanced so far as the men have done. They have acquired a sufficient perception of the privileges which chivalry gives them, but no perception of that [illegible] which chivalry demands from them. Women of the class to which I allude are always talking of their rights, but seem to have a most indifferent idea of their duties. They have no scruple at demanding from a man everything that a man can be called on to relinquish in a woman's behalf, but they do so without any of that grace which turns the demand made into a favor conferred.

AN AMERICAN WOMAN IN THE CARS

The woman, as she enters, drags after her a mis-shapen, dirty mass of battered wirework, which she calls her crinoline, and as much to her grace and comfort as a log of wood does to a donkey when tied to the animal's leg in a paddock. Of this she takes much heed, not managing it in such a way as to be conveyed up the carriage with some decency, but striking it against men's legs, and heaving it with violence over people's knees. The touch of a real woman's dress is in itself delicate, but these blows from a harpy's fins are loathsome. If there be two of them they talk loudly together, having a theory that modesty has been put out of court by women's rights.

But, though not modest, the woman I describe is ferocious in her propriety. She ignores the whole world around her, as she sits with raised chin and face flattened by affectation; she pretends to declare aloud that she is positively not aware that any man is near her. * * * But every twist of her body, and every tone of her voice is an unsuccessful falsehood. She looks square at you in the face, and you rise to give her your seat. You rise from a deference to your own old convictions, and from that courtesy which you have ever paid to a woman's dress, let it be worn with ever such hideous deformities. She takes the place from which you have moved without a word or a bow. She twists her self round, [illegible] your shins with her wires, while her chin is still raised, and her face is still flattened, and she directs her friend's attention to another seated man as though that place were also vacant, and necessarily at her disposal. Perhaps the man opposite has his own ideas about chivalry. I have seen such a thing, and have rejoiced to see it.
